Announcing the results, Mr. Sanjay Agarwal, Managing Director, K S Oils said, “The Indian consumption story continues and with signs of a global economic recovery, we see local demand emerging stronger than ever. The launch of Kalash Soya, our first brand extension of our premium brand Kalash in refined soybean oil has proven that consumers are ready to move to branded products, if given the guarantee of purity, health and value. K S today is focused in building strong and trustworthy consumer brands to cater to the entire edible oil portfolio – mustard, soybean, palm and other refined oils. A renewed marketing focus, increased advertising spend and sharp consumer research led FMCG strategy will see the company register not only volume growth but increased profitability in the future.”

Kalash Soya was launched with a focused advertising and marketing campaign. The TVC focusing on youth and fitness received good consumer recall and demand for Kalash Soya exceeded company targets. Accustomed to KS’ adherence to strict quality standards in Kalash mustard oil, customers gave an overwhelming response to Kalash Soya brand as well; it is today among the top five soybean brands in India, within 6 months of its launch.

The company’s focus in rural markets of Tier II & Tier III markets are in line with macro economic trends like increased GDP in rural households due to the government’s rural focus and benefits like employment and financial grants from various government schemes. The company today gets 70% of its total sales from rural India and is gearing up to meet the increased demand. The new manufacturing plants are functioning at good capacity and it has helped the company increase production, maintain quality & taste as per consumer needs and drive cost efficiencies.

In its continuous effort to gain larger market share, K S Oils is reaching out to both urban and rural India through its retail and local distribution networks. During the quarter, the company has received exceptional response from increased penetration in newer markets like Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh. The company is entering Western India market through Maharashtra and Gujarat.

K S Oils is focusing and improving its supply chain and distributor network from a FMCG company focus. The company added 6 C&F agents, 60 distributors, launched its products in over 61 new towns during the quarter. With these additions, the total number stands at 37 C&F agents, 1,193 distributors in 1,256 cities covering 388 districts all over India, reaching out to over 1,85,000 retailers. It’s distribution reach includes the states of North East (7 states), West Bengal, Bihar, Jharkhand, Uttar Pradesh, Uttaranchal, Delhi, Punjab, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, J&K, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Maharashtra, Gujarat and Orissa.

The company’s main focus in the following quarters is to strengthen its brand portfolio. The company, with its brand led FMCG focus, is committed to build a significant portfolio of brands for the entire edible oil sector, thereby gaining consumer trust and loyalty and delivering higher volume and profit growth.
